Kindergarten Helps for Parents

By Sarah G. Simpson

Consistency is one of the fundamental qualities of discipline, and from my own experience I have found it to be most important. It should always be accompanied by kindness. More mothers have trouble with their children because of their own inconsistency than for any other one reason.

Johnnie comes home from school and asks, "Mother, may I go over to Billy Baker's to play?" and Mother, knowing that Billy's influence is not good, refuses. Johnnie displays more or less temper, but Mother is firm, and Johnnie stays at home. A few days later, however, Johnnie makes the same request, and Mother, who is entertaining a caller, lets him go for a little while. This is a case of inconsistency, and, in order to save one scene, Mother is laying a good foundation for many more. The probability is that had she replied, "Mother has told you before," the matter would have ended there, or even if he had cried a little and "made a scene," the son would have had a valuable lesson and learned that Mother meant what she said. His love for the moment might have been shaken, but eventually Johnnie would have been a happier boy and his love and respect for his mother would have been greater.

The value of consistency cannot be over-estimated. The tiniest baby should be dealt with kindly, but firmly. A mother can develop the teasing habit in her child while he is still in his cradle if she lacks this quality of consistency. At one time when her baby cries she does not pick him up for she says, "It is not good for him and he is forming bad habits." But the next day if she is nervous and unwilling to endure his noise, she yields "just for once." The result is that she gives in to her child more or less through his later childhood.

Again, with an older child, the mother will partially concede, a sort of compromise, and the child is keen enough to know that he has gained his point and each time he will seek to gain a little more, until the mother realizes when it is too late, that her problem is great and her word really has very little weight.

My advice is: be considerate in your requirements of a child, and then be consistent in seeing that the requirements are carried out. Irritable, nagging mothers and unattractive nervous children would be almost unknown if

Big Irish Night Celebration

Benefit of St. Theodore Church—Ex-Gov. E. F. Dunne to Speak

On Monday evening, March 15th, a big time will be had at St. Theodore's Auditorium, Paulina and 62nd Sts., when the big Irish celebration will be held for the benefit of St. Theodore's church.

An entertainment made up of the best professional talent in the city will be given and an address by ex-Gov. Dunne on the situation in Ireland today will be the big features. So much has been said and written on this question of a confusing nature that it will be well worth while hearing the truth from one who was actually on the ground, ex-Gov. Dunne being one of the three commissioners to lay Ireland's claims before the peace conference, and who also made an extended tour of that aggressive country. The arrangements are being made under the auspices of the Holy Name Society of this parish, a committee of 150, made up of the most active workers in the parish, being constantly on the job. Mr. P. H. Gallagher is chairman.

It will be a fine way to spend the evening of March 15th and will help a worthy cause at the same time.

A fine baby arrived one day last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Weiss, 6331 Lincoln St. The fond papa predicted they will call it Chas. Jr., after its papa, but it isn't that kind of a baby, so they have named it Rose, after the mamma. Congratulations are extended from their many Englewood friends.

The fire department extinguished a blaze in Guy Hobbs paint shop, 6250 Ashland Ave., yesterday noon which for a time threatened to destroy the frame building.

March in the Garden

From the Corona Garden Guide

Early in March is the time to make hot beds and cold frames.

Tomato, cabbage, cauliflower, and egg plant seed should be sown early in the month indoors or in hot beds, in order to have early crops.

Radishes and lettuce may be started in a hot bed and allowed to mature there.

Spinach and early peas may be planted as soon as the ground can be worked. Plowing or spading should never be attempted until the soil is dry enough to crumble in the hand. This may not be until April.

A top dressing of any good commercial fertilizer will help the asparagus bed.

Plant sweet peas as soon as the ground is ready. Also poppy seed.

Remove the litter from the perennials and the strawberry beds gradually.

Auburn Park Boy in Big Business Venture

An Auburn Park boy whose antics with Fred Herendeen, Layton Waterman and Arthur Mepliff are well known around the lagoons of the Park, has entered into great business at an early age. Jerome P. Bowes, Jr., and Marlowe M. Merrick and associates announce the incorporation of a general insurance agency under the firm name of Bowes, Merrick and Company, with offices in the Westminster Bldg., 110 S. Dearborn St.

The concern will specialize in the workmen's compensation group insurance and general casualty lines and in addition will represent five or six fire companies in the capacity of general agents. Mr. Bowes, who has been associated with the Rockwood Badgerow Company for the past six years, recently becoming a member of the firm, will continue to represent the Travelers' Insurance Company and the Aetna Casualty and Indemnity department of the Aetna Life Insurance Company through the general agency of the above organization.

The organization will have at its head Mr. Jerome P. Bowes, Jr., whose experience in multiple lines of insurance goes back over a period of seven years. During this short but interesting period he has covered such large contracts as the Parkland Hotel, Grand Rapids, and the Michigan Blvd. building of this city, and is now working out a plan for the Chicago Housing Association to provide insurance for the individual owners of homes in this association.

Benjamin J. Rosenthal, at the head of the Chicago Housing Association, has been responsible for many new ideas also in the insurance field for it is the result of his suggestion that they soon expect to announce a new policy that will solve the heretofore difficult problem of guaranteeing a man his home against all risks.

Future announcements along this line will come simultaneously from the offices of Rockwood Badgerow Company and Bowes, Merrick & Co. W. H. Rockwood, president of the Rockwood Badgerow Company, and Mr. Bowes have been working out the details of this plan for months which, when completed, will contain many interesting features that will be of paramount importance in the problems of labor unrest, good citizenship, loyalty, etc.

Mr. Bowes gave up temporarily his business in 1917 to attend the first officers' training camp at Ft. Sheridan and later was assigned as a commissioned officer to the 18th Field Artillery of the 3rd Division, going to France early in 1918. After fourteen months of active service and over two years of army life he has returned to pick up the loose ends of a thriving business and to go still further intends to "carry on" for himself and immediate associates. Well known in the insurance circles, Mr. Bowes is probably one of the youngest men to assume the head of a large and influential organization, but it is quite apparent to those most directly concerned that youth combined with experience is most desired in this particular field.

Mr. Bowes is the son of Jerome P. Bowes, the well known real estate operator and banker with offices at 5905 S. Ashland Ave., and he is a nephew of Mrs. E. Graham Cottle of Auburn Park. He is 26 years of age and has been identified with both the insurance business and the investment field.

Marlowe M. Merrick, who is the son of Harry H. Merrick, president of the Great Lakes Trust Company, is making his initial bow in the insurance business. He is very well equipped, due to his varied experience both in the industrial and financial world. He was formerly one of the department managers of Armour & Co., representing the South American trade with offices at Havana, Cuba. Later he became identified with the stock, bond and security business and more recently in real estate circles.

Mr. Merrick, prior to the war, was financially and directly interested in the affairs of one of the large contracting corporations in the Northwest engaged in concrete construction and about the same time organized the Collis Products Co. of Omaha, building plants for this concern, fifteen in all, in the large creamery center of this country, acting in the capacity of vice-president and general manager. Then came the United States entrance into the war. Mr. Merrick attended the first training camp at Ft. Sheridan later being commissioned a captain of cavalry. Since the armistice he has been engaged in the real estate business as member of the firm of Merrick & Cook.

Mr. Bowes stated that his only regret in organizing the new company was that it would compel him in a way to leave his old associates in the Rockwood Badgerow Co., which he considers the finest and most successful agency in the United States. He has been recently taken into the firm and intends to retain his interest and in return for the pleasant relations that have existed in the past as well as for the representation that it will give his firm intends to continue to place all casualty lines through their office and in that way be identified with the Travelers Insurance Co. and the Aetna as in the past. This connection, together with the fire companies that they will represent, will cover every line of insurance.

Optimistic Thought.

Age is venerable in a man—and would be in a woman if she ever became old.

Northwest Englewood News

It has been suggested a number of times that we petition the Board of Local Improvements to have the alley between Honore and Lincoln Sts. from Garfield Blvd. to 59th St. paved. While such assessment, on account of the high cost of material and labor would at this time be extremely high, we believe that every cent of it would revert back to the property owners in increase in the value of the property and would thus make a good investment. An estimate made to the writer some months ago placed the cost of paving this alley at about $90 per 30 ft. lot, payable in five years with interest at 5 per cent per annum. If owners adjoining this alley are in favor of this improvement, kindly communicate with the secretary of the West Englewood Improvement Club, Peter Kramer, 5620 S. Honore St.

Compared with other districts throughout the city, we think that our ward superintendent, Mike O'Connell, is doing very well in regard to keeping the alleys clean. Remember, we said "compared," which does not mean that the alleys are all that we have a right to expect them to be, but we do think that on account of lack of funds and other difficulties that Mike is working under, he is to be commended.

Johnnie Fagan our w. k. laundry man, is suffering with the gout, and has been obliged to go down to the Springs. We hope for his speedy recovery and early return.

Mrs. Hines slipped on an icy walk last week, fell and sprained her wrist.

Mr. John Roche, 5657 Honore St., is dangerously ill with pneumonia, but is making a valiant fight. We sincerely hope that he will prove to be the victor very soon.

West Englewood Co-Operative Association will meet on Friday evening, March 12th, to elect its officers of the permanent organization. The present organization was merely a temporary or preliminary one, which was to function until 50 per cent or more of the stock is subscribed for, at which time the stockholders were to meet to form the permanent organization, to elect their directors and officers and to complete the plans to open a store. The meeting place will probably be in the Lindblom High School. Watch for the announcement.

Mr. Mack Girtz, the proprietor of the United Shoe Market Co., has been enjoying a much needed rest for the past ten days at West Baden, Ind.

Mr. Nink of the N. & N. Auto Sales Co., 1801 W. 63rd St., accompanied by Elmer Jordan and Peter Baum and several others, left Monday night for Toledo, Ohio. They will return with a string of Overlands and Willys-Knights from the factory. The trip will be made Overland coming back and no doubt will be enjoyed greatly by all those present.

Mr. Dave Rose of the City Furniture Co., 62nd and Halsted Sts., is able to be up after several weeks' severe sickness.

Friends of Irish Freedom

The Friends of Irish Freedom will celebrate the 142nd anniversary of the birth of the immortal Robert Emmet on Thursday evening, March 4, 1920, at 8 p. m. sharp, under the auspices of the Robert Emmet Branch, Friends of Irish Freedom, at St. Anne's Auditorium, 55th and LaSalle streets. The speakers: Thos. A. Gannon, National Chairman of American Commission on Irish Independence; Rev. James K. Fielding, Harry C. Phibbs and others.

Entertainment: Songs, Patriotic American and Irish Airs, by St. Anne's Orchestra; Star Spangled Banner and the Soldiers of Erin (the Irish Marseillaise), by St. Margaret's Choral Society; Bart Doody, famous Boy Soprano; Miss Selena O'Neill, Violin and Piano Irish Melodies; Recitation, "Erin's Green Flag," John O'Grady; Recitation, "The Fighting Race," Miss Margaret G. McCarthy; Irish Jigs, Reels, Hornpipes—Prof. John McNamara and Pupils.

Ringing resolutions denouncing the imprisonment and deportation of the citizens of the Irish Republic; a protest against the sale of ships (acquired from Germany) to England or any other nation; demand that the American government and congress keep its promise to the world when it entered the war for the self-determination of small nations.

Admission 50c. Doors open at 7 p. m. Come early.

Long live the Irish Republic!

Good Citizenship

The first step toward good government is to get out a full vote at all primaries and elections. The elements that seek to manipulate popular government for their own personal advantage, always get their vote out. They carry many contests where the mass of the people do not get out in large numbers.

In many states the real choice of the people is made at the primary contests. If the politicians can have their way at the primaries, they are usually able to control elections. Yet in spite of the vital importance of those preliminary contests, they are apt to be poorly attended.

Some people won't vote, because they say everything is set up and cut and dried before hand by the politicians. If so, one reason why things are mismanaged is that the people abstain from voting in large numbers, therefore allowing interested parties to set things up for their own personal advantage.

The results of primaries and elections closely affect everyone. If the government is poorly conducted, taxes will be high, public work will be badly done, schools will not educate the children well, the roads will not be kept up, in short everything will go badly. Whereas if capable and honest men are elected, improvement will be achieved in all lines.

Yet the people who suffer from the evils of inefficient government often forget when primary day comes. They are too busy to take a half hour to go to the polls on election day. It is poor patriotism, poor citizenship, and mental sluggishness. But these are times when the spirit of good citizenship is rising, and when there is a steady increase of attendance at political contests. The man who claims to love his country, and to want good business and good public work, is a fool if he does not take the trouble to vote.

West Englewood Business Men's First Meeting a Big Success

Luncheon Served, Entertained by Vocal Soloists and Good, Prominent Speakers

The Business Men's Association met at noon yesterday in a local cafe, which was the first of what will be their weekly luncheon and get-together meetings. Some 65 tickets were sold to insure a certain attendance and about 46 responded. Mrs. Lettie Van Hoesen of the Ashland Conservatory of Music rendered three very pretty and appropriate solos which were greatly enjoyed by all present. Dr. F. G. Moore of the entertainment committee then introduced the after dinner speaker, Hon. Edward H. Dougherty, general publicity man from the 63rd and Halsted St. Business Men's Association. Mr. Dougherty enlightened us with a good many things in the way of improvements of our association and from what their association has experienced in the past and we all feel very thankful toward him for boosting us along.

Frank McGarr, Jr., is president of the association and promises us many good things at the next meeting next Tuesday, 12 o'clock sharp. You will all be duly notified at an early date, so get your working clothes on, boys, jump in and help make this association second to none. Boost West Englewood.

Famous Caves Change Owners.

The Tillywhim caves and the Great Globe at Swanage were offered by auction at Bournemouth, England, but failed to find a purchaser, although the Great Globe and Dorleston Head Castle were knocked down for $10,000. The Durleston Park estate, on which these landmarks are situated, had previously been offered as a whole, but had failed to find a purchaser.

Watch a City Grow in Marquette Manor

Elmer Jordan, Editor

Chicago has today nearly 3,000,000. It is rapidly growing. Have you noticed in the papers announcement one after another, telling of new factory additions, new factories, other manufacturing concerns coming to Chicago from distant cities? We are all aware that these new enterprises will need men. The men are constantly being lured to Chicago by attractive pay. This makes our city grow. Mark my words: In five years Marquette Manor will be a young city all by itself. It will contain 25,000. Ten years from now 50,000. Who will profit by this remarkable influx of people? I will tell you: it will be you, your neighbor, and the business men. Think ahead. Imagine yourself taking a part of the dream that is bound to come to Marquette Manor. Plan to act for your future today.

To Save Charred Documents.

Documents that have been charred by fire are rendered readable if collodion is poured over the charred paper. In a few minutes this dries and a tough, transparent coating is produced through which the printing can be seen. Bank notes and other papers thus charred have been treated in this way with success.

Sunrise.

She struggled to a certain hilltop and saw before her the silent inflooding of the day. Out of the east it welled and whitened; the darkness trembled into light; and the stars were extinguished like the street lamps of a human city. The whiteness brightened into silver, the silver warmed to gold, the gold kindled into pure and living fire; and the face of the east was barred with elemental scarlet.—R. L. Stevenson.

Bright men are in demand in the business world. They are needed to think up new reasons for boosting prices.—Los Angeles Times.

First Maine Post Office.

In 1775 the first post offices in Maine were established at Kennebunk, Falmouth and Bath. The mails were carried by carriers on foot or on horseback and the average week's mail did not amount to five letters at each office. The rates were high, 6¼, 12½, 18¾, 25 and 37½ cents, according to the distance the letter had to be carried, and double the rate when the letter was on more than one sheet of paper.

There is something of the open-air freshness about every Winter garment cleansed by us.

Through our service the new appearance of wearing apparel may be retained indefinitely.

Proper cleansing at regular intervals is the most intelligent economy that can be practised.

Let us add usefulness to your Winter garments by keeping them new and fresh and attractive.

Suits & Overcoats

Ladies Coats and Dressess

Proper cleansing involves almost infinite details. There is the necessity for understanding the changes in fabrics constantly coming out; the late shades and modes in colors; the new styles and the ways of draping. Attention to these details gives our cleansing the up-to-dateness that makes it distinctive.

National Theatre

The attraction at the National Theatre starting Sunday afternoon, March 7th, will be that ever popular and interesting play "The Common Law." No book of fiction within late memory has caused such a veritable sensation as has Robert W. Chambers' "The Common Law," and it may be said that no other story of a similar nature has lent itself so admirably for dramatic purposes than has this narrative wherein the author has aroused almost endless discussion upon a subject which has engrossed undivided attention in two hemispheres.

Those who have read "The Common Law," and there are thousands upon thousands who have gave doubtless experienced a sense of curiosity to behold the flesh and blood characters of Louis Neville and his sweetheart model, Valerie West. The reasoning powers of the young woman in the case, whose mind filled with false ideas regarding the marriage state, and exhalted character of the artist, whose noble manhood finally wins the girl over to his way of thinking, have been discussed in innumerable households and in all probability no other book characters have ever made a stronger appeal to general humanity than have the creations of the author of "The Common Law."

AT MARLOWE HIPPODROME
63rd St. and Stewart Ave.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, March 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th, four big days, matinees Wednesday and Thursday; admission, main floor 25c, war tax 3c, total 28c; balcony 20c, war tax 2c, total 22c. Mary Pickford in "Pollyanna." Mary Pickford paints wonderful character. Great story of Eleanor H. Porter's is best vehicle "America's Sweetheart" ever had. When Eleanor H. Porter wrote "Pollyanna," thus strumming the heart-strings of the people with the magic of her genius, she little realized that she was creating an ideal vehicle for the world's greatest motion picture actress. Yet that is exactly what this appealing novel has proved to be, and in the film version released by the United Artists Corporation, to be shown at the Marlowe Theatre, beginning Monday and ending Thursday, Mary Pickford paints in black and white the most pathetic, adorable, lovable Pollyanna that could possibly be conceived.

"Monte Carlo Girls"

Ladies' Bargain Week Day Matinees Seats 18c

A big stupendous burlesque attraction will be the feature at the Englewood Theatre starting Sunday matinee, March 7th. The production is entitled "The Monte Carlo Girls," conceded by press and public to be the most elaborate and gorgeous presentation of its kind in the burlesque field. Always known as a show chock full of original comedy and humorous laughable situations, the producers have quite outdone themselves in this season's effort to make it a winner.

A cast of the cleverest and most talented artists is included, headed by that well known acrobatic dancing comedian, Frank "Rags" Murphy, who in his tramp character is a delineator of rare comedy throughout the show and succeeds in keeping his audience in an uproar by his various antics.

Fred Reeb, long identified as the leader of all eccentric dancing comedians, is also a member of the cast and receives his share of laughs in a manner exciting his versatility.

John Hudgins, one of the very best blackface singers and dancers in burlesque, also adds his share of talent to the success of the production. Earl Hall is the straight and character man and Jake Kennedy a clever acrobat.

First on the list of female stars is Sarah Hyatt, the silver voiced prima donna and possessor of the most elaborate costumes seen at this theatre. Grace Tremont, the soubrette de luxe, with a charming personality, pleasing voice and rare dancing ability, adds much to the merit of the show. Alberta Fowler is the ingenue.

There is also the mile a minute chorus which contains some of the prettiest and shapelest girls seen on any stage. Two acts and four scenes constitute the elaborate production entitled "The College Girls" for the first act and "A Night at Monte Carlo" for the second.

The musical numbers are the very latest Broadway hits.

Price Tendency

It is true that at first glance prices appear somewhat high. But when you stop to consider the exceptional high price of raw materials, the continuous advance in labor costs and the accompanying decrease in production from the raw material through every stage of manufacture the reason for present prices is clearly evident.

It is impossible to avoid the old law of supply and demand. When the demand is greater than the supply, prices must go up, and vice versa. Today the demand far exceeds the supply in practically every commodity and indications are that it will require from two to five years at least for production to catch up with consumption. For the balance of this year every indication points to still higher prices and an acute shortage of merchandise.

As an indicator of the great demand during 1920 it is reported that there is already under way, contracts for over $4,000,000,000 worth of building construction and this in the face of the highest costs of material and labor known to this country. Farms, factories, and public service corporations will require the services of every available workman. The buying power of the country, as a whole, is bound to be the most tremendous ever known.

The great problem confronting this country today is that of production. As labor costs advance, production invariably decreases, which fact is alone an important item in the cost of the finished product.

In the face of a world shortage of materials and labor it is neither reasonable to suppose, nor is it in keeping with good business judgment to expect anything but continued high prices during 1920.

It is our opinion that prices are more reasonable now than they will be later in the year and for this reason we believe it wise to buy your reasonable requirements now. We are not believers in reckless or speculative buying when prices are at a high level, but do believe in careful buying to cover, as nearly as possible, your needs for the season.

PAINTS

If you haven't repapered your home for the coming season, we urge you to do so now while our large assortment of handsome offerings is still complete and fresh.

A few rolls of tasteful wallpaper and a competent paper hanger (whom we can recommend) will put a world of youthful freshness on your walls and keep your home in harmony with the spirit of summertime and sunshine.

Simplex Mangles — Easy Terms

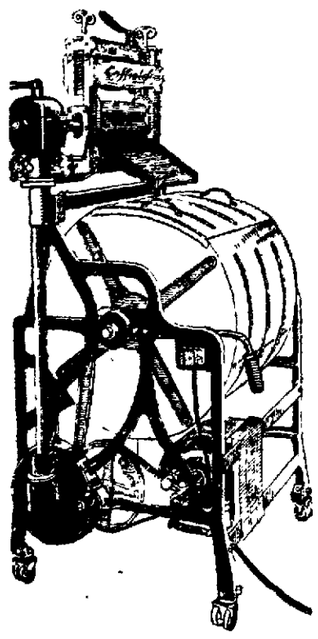
Makes Every Minute Count on Washday

The illustration shows The Coffield Electric Washer in detail, but no picture of it can begin to do the machine justice.

You must see the machine itself to appreciate what a wonderful washday help it is and how very much it will mean to you to have one of these tireless mechanical servants in your home.

The Coffield is the last word in electric washer design and construction; replete with exclusive features that make it easy to use and inexpensive to operate; built to last an ordinary lifetime.

In this machine the heaviest blankets or the most delicate pieces can be washed spotlessly clean and not a thread will be broken.



Five hours of Ironing by hand done in one hour on a

Simplex Ironer

In addition to flat pieces, articles such as underwear, rompers, pajamas, nightgowns, negligees, shirts, aprons, etc., may be ironed on this machine.

This machine not only saves labor but does much better work than can be done by hand.

ASK ABOUT OUR CREDIT PLAN

Nationally Advertised and Endorsed by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Yes, There is a Difference

The measure of Eureka Superiority lies in the great volume of air that rushes through the nozzle—and the Velocity at which it travels.

That is the real secret of Vacuum Cleaner Efficiency —VOLUME and VELOCITY.

The wonderful little Eureka Motor creates an exceedingly high vacuum that pulls a great volume of air through the carpet or rug; and the velocity at which this air travels loosens every particle of dust or dirt embedded in the fabric and carries it up into the dust bag.

The carpet or rug is left perfectly clean and sanitary.

The Eureka cleans in the most thorough manner not only all carpets and rugs—but with its numerous attachments it is just as effective in the cleaning of upholstery, mattresses and draperies.

Volume and Velocity

Every REAL Electric Vacuum Cleaner derives its efficiency from its ability to move a great VOLUME of air through the carpet or other fabric at a high VELOCITY.

The brush inserted in or attached to the nozzle of this type of cleaner is there solely for the purpose of removing the lint, hairs and threads from the surface. The AIR gets the dirt—the dirty, unsanitary dirt embedded in the rug or fabric.

Eureka Supremacy is based upon these two things —Great volume of air at the high velocity at which it travels.
